

Inquiry with John Provost:

The Philosophic Path to Serenity

Is there a place for wisdom in our modern, busy world? Does philosophy have anything to offer us when we are confused and battered by life and what it offers up to us? This new course builds on the theme of past classes in the "Spiritual Masters" series. This time we will look at two living, modern spiritual teachers Eckhart Tolle and Byron Katie. Can they help us understand the modern conditions under which we all live today? When we studied older masters we had to deal with translating languages and archaic terminology to see if they had relevance in our world today. With Tolle and Katie we can plunge right into the modern world with people who speak our language and have to face the same circumstances that we do. You may find you agree with them or disagree with them, but we can be sure they will stimulate an interesting dialogue! In the process we will experience how the power of questions and inquiry can lead to acceptance and serenity.

Dates: Wednesdays, May 26, June 2, 9, 16

Time: 10:00am - noon

Fee: $45.00

Place: OLLI at CSUMB (Inter-Garrison / 6th Avenue)

Facilitator: John Provost is a philosophy instructor at Monterey Peninsula College. He has been studying philosophy and religion for nearly 30 years, and Integral Philosophy since attending the California Institute of Integral Studies (and reading his first Ken Wilber book) in 1993. John has been an active member of the Integral Institute for many years, continuing his own integral education through both conferences and online programs. <http://johnprovost.net>

OSHER
LIFELONG LEARNING
INSTITUTE

(831) 582-5500 CSUMB.EDU/olli